Fourth Annual Military Ball To Feature Flanagan, Co-Queens

A military theme will dominate the decoration scheme at the fourth annual Military Ball tonight in the Men's Gym. The dance is for invited guests, ROTC and AFROTC cadets. Ralph Flanagan's nationally-famed orchestra will play for the affair.

Co-queens of the Military Ball will be crowned during intermission at approximately 10:15.

Plans for decoration include a false ceiling of open parachutes suspended from the girders of the gym, stacked rifles, howitzers, blue and gold balloons hanging from the balcony, a world globe in the corridor, and potted palms and grass, with a picket fence around the palms.

A reception line will receive the couples at the entrance. The line will include Pres. and Mrs. Ralph W. McDonald, colonels and cadet colonels, advisers, guests, and adjutants of the Artillery and Air Force divisions.

Committee co-chairmen for the Military Ball are Harry P. Thal and Edward Haller. The Air Force committees this year are: band, William Melvin; decorations, Bud Weckesser; intermission, Theodore Beuke; budget, Roger T. McBride; parking, James C. Koehler; entrance, Ambrose J. Paridon.

The Artillery committees are: publicity, William Rogers; refreshments, Bennett Litherland; reception line, Richard N. Berk; check room, Walter R. Lundwall; clean up, Victor Daniel Springer.

The Drum and Bugle Corps will play a fanfare from the steps of the Men's Gym as the honored guests arrive.

Research Prof Scheduled For Lecture Series

Dr. Raymond B. Cattell, research professor in the laboratory of personality assessment and group behavior at the University of Illinois, will give a series of three lectures at the University, March 24 and 25.

The lecture March 24 will be held at 8 p.m. in the Recreation Hall and the topic will be "The Dynamics of Attitude Measurement." March 25 the lecture will be in the Main Aud., at 11 a.m. on the topic, "Leaders, Men and the Performance of Teams." In the evening, Dr. Cattell will speak before a meeting of Psi Chi, psychology honorary society, on the subject of "Researchers of the Future in Psychology and the Social Science."

Awarded Prize

Dr. Cattell was recently awarded the Wenner-Gren prize for his "research on research" dealing with working conditions, incentive, personality, motivation and the organization of research. The thousand dollar prize was awarded to the speaker by the New York Academy of Science; and is granted to the man who has contributed most to the study of scientific research. Dr. Cattell is the first psychologist to receive this award.

The speaker has written several books. The most significant is "Description and Measurement of Personality," in which the speaker studies personality mathematically.

Cattell is also the author of many articles in psychological journals and has designed some personality and intelligence tests.

Clinic Director

Dr. Cattell received his education at the University of London. In 1932, he became Director of the City of Leicester Child Guidance Clinic and in 1945, became a research professor at the University of Illinois, a position that he is holding at present. Dr. Cattell is especially interested in the study of personality analysis, measurement of motivation and leadership in small groups.

The speaker's visit is sponsored by the Social Science Committee; Dr. Grover Platt, chairman.

Deadline Set For History Contest

April 18 is the deadline for all entries in the fourth annual John Schwarz Memorial Award contest, Dr. Grover Platt, chairman of the history department, has announced. A $20 prize will be awarded to the writer of the best paper in any field of history.

The contest is open to all students of the University, both graduate and undergraduate. Entries will be judged on the basis of the paper's documentation, literary style, and historical accuracy. Judges for the contest will be two faculty members and one student, a member of Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary society.

The contest is named in honor of the late Dr. John Schwarz, former chairman of the history department, who died in 1950. Richard Daley, a '54 graduate, won last year's contest. His paper was based on the Dred Scott Decision.

MEd Degree Revision Embodies Four Major Program Changes

Four major changes have been made in the graduate program leading to the Master of Education degree, according to Dr. Emerson C. Shuck, dean of the Graduate School.

The first major change is in the curriculum, to provide a greater distribution. Under the new program, the credits required in the field of specialization will be nine instead of the previous major of 18; but the specialization may often be more than the minimum, which varies according to the particular field.

The fields of specialization include biology, business, elementary education, English, foreign language, general science, guidance and counseling, health and physical education, history, industrial arts education, mathematics, school administration, sociology, special education, speech and dramatic arts, and speech and hearing therapy.

Outside Courses

Sufficient additional courses outside the student's department of specialization must be taken to complete a total of at least nine semester hours of distribution, instead of the 12 hours formerly required.

A minimum of 31 semester hours of graduate course credit is required, although state certification requirements in some of the fields of specialization may require a degree program of more than the 31-semester-hour minimum.

Professional Courses

Additional professional courses to complete the 31-hour minimum under the new program include Guidance and Research 498; a 2 or 3-semester-hour course in research procedures or in problems involving the elements of research; a 2 or 3-semester-hour course in tests and measurements or statistics; and a 2 or 3-semester-hour course in professional education approved by the student's adviser and the Dean of the Graduate School.

Admission Change

The second major change is in the admission to candidacy. Under the new program, admission may be requested by the student after completion of at least 12 semester hours of course work toward the degree, including G & R 498, and the research course. The applicant shall have completed at least one full year of school teaching, shall have been in full residence in the University for at least one semester or summer session, and shall have completed a portion of the course work planned outside his area of specialization, before being admitted to candidacy for the degree. Admission to candidacy is required at least 17 weeks prior to commencement, as for all graduate degrees.

Fraternity Bids Out Tomorrow

Fraternity bids will be distributed tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the auditorium of the Practical Arts Bldg. Roger Kasten, vice-president of Interfraternity Council, requested that all men interested in pledging a fraternity pick up their bids at this time to avoid possible confusion during the open rushing period the following week.

IFC has requested that active fraternity members stay away from the Practical Arts Bldg. while bids are being passed out. The lists of men receiving bids will be posted on the front door of the Practical Arts Bldg. and on the Practical Arts auditorium door.

If a man picks up bids on Saturday, but does not sign at that time, he must pay a penalty of $5 if he does sign during the open rushing period.

IFC also announced that the present rushing rules will remain in effect until 5 p.m. tomorrow.

ment, as for all graduate degrees.

Under the previous program, the student had to satisfy qualification requirements set by the departments responsible for supporting his candidacy. This qualification requirement normally took the form of written examinations upon principles in the field. Now the student will be admitted according to the judgment of the department supporting his candidacy and the quality of his previous course record.

Third Change

The third major change is the comprehensive examination, which covers the field of specialization and the general field of professional education. This examination may be written or oral, and is taken following admission to candidacy, after the completion of at least 18 semester hours of credit toward the degree, but at least six weeks before the commencement at which the degree is expected. This is the major examination for the degree, and combines the examination which was formerly taken before admission to candidacy, and the final examination for the degree.

The last change is in the research report. Candidates for the Master of Education degree are not required to submit a formal thesis, but they are expected to give satisfactory evidence of the completion of a substantial investigation.

Simultaneous Art Exhibits To Open Sunday At Gallery, Newman Hall

Two art exhibits will be held in Bowling Green on the same day and at the same time. The day, March 13, and the time, from 2 to 5 p.m. will find the Art Faculty Show at the Fine Arts Bldg. and the Religious Art Exhibit sponsored by the Newman Club, at Newman Hall, 150 South Enterprise.

The Art Faculty Show will feature faculty talents in oils, watercolors, drawings, designs, prints, sculptures, ceramics, and jewelry design. An annual exhibit for the past nine years, the faculty show had a "big crowd" last year according to Willard Wankelman, show chairman.

Bowling Green students making preparations for the show are: Mary Jeanne Connelly, chairman; Ed Puchalla, publicity; Sue Openthaler, and Barbara Gould, invitations; Gertrude Gallas, food; Mary Louise Bowman and Celia Lalonde, hostesses; Kay Metz, Pam Jenke, Harry Sviak, and Emil Petti, decorations.

Professional, and student work will be presented by artists from

32 Students Receive Straight A's; Seniors Lead List With Ten

Thirty-two students received the grade of A in all courses for first semester 1954-55 according to the registrar's office.

Among the four-pointers, two were in graduate school, ten were seniors, six were juniors, eight were sophomores and six were freshmen.

A list of the students included: Sara Kay Banks, Susan J. Bonnet, Harry W. Buckingham, Patricia Ann Carnes, Robert C. Darling, Catherine Ann Davis, Janet Dick, Robert Fitch.

Others were Robert F. Godfrey, George R. Guffey, Eugene H. Harms, Leo M. Hartke, Roger C. Heil, Miriam J. Horton, Elaine Kelch, Felix S. Maldonado, Judy Mossing, Margie E. Mueller, Marilyn L. Nicholas.

Reserve Program Offered By USMC

Captain Tilton A. Anderson, the Marine Corps' Officer Procurement Officer for the states of Michigan and Ohio, announced today that the Marine Corps has openings in an officer candidate program for college undergraduates who can meet the following qualifications:

1. Be a full time student in an accredited college pursuing a course of instruction leading to a bachelor's degree in fields other than medicine, dentistry, theology, pharmacy, music and art.
 2. Over the age of 17 at time of enrollment and under 26 on 1 July of the year in which he expects to receive his degree.
 3. Be able to pass the required physical and written examinations.
- The program offers a draft deferment through college, no training, drills or uniforms required during the academic year, and a commission as a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve upon graduation from college, after which the graduate will receive training in one of the specialized fields of the Marine Corps.

Interested young men should contact Captain Anderson at Room 467, New Federal Building, Detroit, Michigan.

Five major revisions in the organization and membership of Student Senate were presented to the group at its meeting Monday night by Arch B. Conklin, Senate adviser. The revisions were prepared by Pres. Ralph W. McDonald.

Freshmen will be given two seats on Senate next year. They will be elected after the beginning of the second semester. No freshman representation was present during this Senate.

Member Added

A sixth ex officio member was added to the Senate roster. The president of Book and Motor, scholarship honor society, will join the presidents of Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic Council, Association of Women Students, Cap and Gown, and Omicron Delta Kappa in next year's organization.

Nominations for the 10 at-large Senate posts will be held Thursday, April 14 in the Rec Hall, Ethel McMillan, elections committee chairman, announced. All nominees will be screened by the committee on Student Leadership and Service, and a slate of 20 to 25 candidates will be presented to the students on election day. This differs from last year's procedure in that nominees were accepted when they filled a petition with a specified number of student's names. The number of signatures required depended on the University enrollment.

New System

The election will be held Wednesday, April 20 in the Rec Hall. At this time, candidates for May Court and class offices will be chosen in addition to the election of 10 Senators. Students will vote for the 10 candidates they deem best by marking the ballot with an "X". No preferential voting system will be used for the Senate election.

The Senate officers, president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, will be elected in the spring following the general all-campus election from among the 10 elected members. Ex officio members shall have the same voting privileges as the elected members but are not eligible for office.

Last Year

Last year, this procedure was used for the offices of president and vice-president, but the secretary and treasurer were elected in the spring election by the student body.

Vacancies in any of the four offices will be filled by the new Senate and vacancies in membership shall be filled by the persons receiving the highest number of votes in the spring election after the 10 persons elected.

In other business, Katherine Metz, Senate vice-president, announced that bids for the U-A Prom will be $2.50 per couple. The name of the band will remain secret until a future date.

Senate Vacancies

Miss Metz said that two vacancies exist on the Senate elections committee for a freshman and a senior. Interested students may fill out an application blank at the Senate desk in the Dean of Student's office. Applications are due Friday, March 18.

Senate agreed to plan the publicity for the Alma Mater Contest. George Howick was appointed chairman of the publicity committee for this function.

Karszewski Announces Campus Cross Drive

The Campus Red Cross Drive, now in progress, will continue until Friday, March 18, announced Marcia Karszewski, general co-chairman.

Members of Panhellenic Council and IFC are responsible for collections made in sorority and fraternity houses. Containers have been placed in the dorms and smaller living houses on campus.

All collections may be turned in at the Student Activities office at any time.

Dr. WALTER M. HORTON

Oberlin Theologian To Speak Here On Protestant Unity

The movement to unite the Protestant faiths will be discussed by Dr. Walter Marshall Horton, of Oberlin College Theological Seminary, at 6 p.m. March 13, in Studio B of the Practical Arts Bldg.

His topic, "Church Unity—Problems and Possibilities," will be part of the Sunday evening program sponsored by United Christian Fellowship.

In addition to being graduated from Harvard with honors, Dr. Horton holds five degrees, including the Ph.D. He has studied at six schools, including the Universities of Strasbourg and Marburg, and has taught at nine.

The theologian has had a hand in publishing 23 books, 13 of which are mainly the product of his own labor. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the American Theological Society, which elected him president in 1942.

The study-tours he has taken have spread his renown throughout the world. He has traveled in much of the East, been in much of South America, and spent several summers in Europe.

Civil Service Exams Offered March 24, 25

Civil service examinations for clerks, clerk typists, and clerk stenographers will be given in the Practical Arts Bldg. Thursday and Friday, March 24 and 25 according to Elton Ringer, University comptroller.

Many of the University's office employees are required to take the examinations and have been notified to do so. It is possible, Mr. Ringer said, that some students may be interested in taking the examinations.

The examinations are to fill positions in all state universities only. Applicants may compete in only one of the following on March 24: clerks I, II, III, IV.

Examinations for clerk typists I, II, III, and IV; and clerk stenographers I, II, III, and IV for all state universities will be given March 25. In each case applicants may compete in only one of the listed examinations for each day.

Prof. Allen's Recital Rescheduled For April

A vocal recital by Prof. Warren Allen, originally scheduled for Thursday, March 3, has been postponed and rescheduled for April 5.

The recital will be held in the Practical Arts Auditorium. Mr. Allen was forced to postpone the original recital because of illness.

BG Hospitality

Failure to use available accommodations for persons who appear on the Artist Series program was evident this past week end. Although Isaac Stern paid fine tribute to the University orchestra in its accompaniment, the Artist Series did not show him as much courtesy by failing to provide a proper place for him to stay and planning his time in Bowling Green aside from the performance.

This is not the first time this type of incident has occurred. The University Guest House, as clean and as restful a place as there is in Bowling Green, will avoid any inconveniences found at the local hostels, and is designed for receiving guests of the University.

In addition, transportation is usually a difficulty for a person on tour, and proper reception of an individual of any esteem includes providing any transportation he deems necessary, and does not leave it to chance.

There are two sides to the story, however, the members of the Artist Series Committee just do not feel obligated to the performers who are employed purely on a commercial basis. The University Series fund is divided and paid as salary for each of the performers. They, therefore, pay their own transportation and meals. Many artists are too busy to be bothered with receptions and courtesies the University may extend to them.

The Committee has presented a balanced and commendable series of presentations this year, yet the return engagement of any performer depends to some extent on the treatment he receives from his hosts, as well as the actual preparation of stage and program.

The High And The Mighty

Upon what pedestal do the military place themselves so that they are so high they can not see the plebes breaking down the doors for a chance to see Ralph Flanagan. Greeks have often been accused of discriminating against independents, but they do allow them to view the dance even though the band is employed by Grecian money.

Sights On City

Tourists, Natives Similar In NYC; Sights, Sounds, Smells Recorded

With Easter vacation coming up soon, no doubt many of you will be heading toward New York City for a week filled with excitement.

You can tell the tourists from New Yorkers without a scoreboard. You can find the visitors climbing the winding, spiral staircase at the Statue of Liberty—12 flights—and no turning back—you can see them straining to read gravestone markers in Trinity Churchyard, and wandering down Wall and Exchange Sts.—the burgher town of 300 years ago.

You can find them staring down on the convention-like stock exchange floor, and latching onto the tail end of a free tour—or you can see them looking hopelessly confused, lost in the Subway.

And they're gawking at the Empire State Building (1,472 feet, ladies and gentlemen, the tallest building in the world)—paying to look down on The City from a dizzy 102nd story height—back on solid ground, signing the guest book at the U.N.

The New Yorker is right alongside the tourist—he's taking his wife and runny-nosed kids to the Statue of Liberty—in Trinity Churchyard an office girl is eating her lunch, unfettered by thoughts of spooky eminences like Alexander Hamilton or Robert Fulton—the banker and the junior broker are scurrying along Exchange St., too, conservative and important in grey homburgs—a troop of 6th graders are touring the corridors of the U.N.

Times Square, and a dozen different languages united in confusion—rushing New Yorkers—a panhandler taking time out for a hot dog at Nedicks—a man with a camera being pushed along in the swell of the crowd. Nearby, outside the radio and TV theaters, city youngsters beg extra tickets from the visitor.

The streets of the garment district are swarming with rolling clothes racks, delivery trucks, and arguing salesmen—occasionally, a passerby squeezes through.

Banker To Survey Economic Future

The Bowling Green Marketing Club will be host to the Northwestern Ohio Chapter of the American Marketing Association for its annual campus meeting to be held at the University, Wednesday, March 23 in the Gate Theatre.

Paul E. Belcher, vice-president of the First National Bank of Akron, will be the guest speaker. Mr. Belcher will speak on "The Economic Outlook."

A special invitation is extended to the marketing students and faculty of Bowling Green and the University of Toledo. All reservations must be made with Lewis F. Manhart, associate professor of Business Administration, no later than Tuesday, March 15. Mr. Manhart's office is on the third floor of the Administration Bldg., or he may be reached by telephoning 31842.

Newsman Plan Confab On School Relations

Northwestern Ohio newsmen and school administrators will meet at a School Press Relations Conference on campus April 12.

According to J. J. Currier, chairman of the journalism department, the object of the conference is to discuss problems involved in the use of public school news and how it can be better presented to the public.

The conference is sponsored by several professional organizations in both fields, with the journalism department helping to set it up. H. L. Bowman, superintendent of Bowling Green schools, is in charge of plans.

vestigative study. This research will take the form of a report under the new plan, and will be part of the required research course. Formerly, the research was one in the form of a project and no credit was given for the work, beyond incidental seminar or practicum registration.

Students presently working under different degree requirements may transfer to this program only when its total objectives may be met, and must obtain permission of the Dean by submitting a written petition outlining the proposed degree plan as worked out with an adviser.

Eve Williams and Connie Wood, while floating in the water, model the costumes that they will wear in the Swan Club Show, March 24, 25, and 26. The women are Intercollegiate duet and AAU duet champions. Miss Wood is also the Intercollegiate solo champion.

Swan Club Members Rated High At Intercollegiate Swimming Meet

Swan Club swimmers took first place in both solo and duet competition, and third in team competition at the intercollegiate synchronized swimming conference at the University of Illinois last Friday.

Eve Williams and Connie Wood won first place in the duet with their portrayal of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy, the number they will present in this year's Swan Club Show. Miss Wood, swimming as Peter Pan, retained the intercollegiate solo championship by taking first place in solo competition.

The team, swimming its number under the theme of "Cotton Blossoms," a minstrel number done in blackface, took third place behind Illinois and Michigan.

Seventeen schools from six mid-western states participated in the conference.

Next Eyas To Be Mimeograph Edition

Eyas, student literary magazine, will be mimeographed and will cost a maximum of 20 cents stated John A. Poes, editor. The campus magazine will be on sale in a month.

Short stories by Rodney L. Parrish, junior; Peg Anderson, sophomore; William D. Scott, graduate student; Lawrence A. Kocina, senior; and poetry by Cleburne L. Quinn, senior, are included in this issue. Among the freshman pieces is a reflective essay by Betty Jo Ackerman, mother of three children.

The editorial staff will accept student compositions for the next issue. Rodney L. Parrish, a member of the staff, stated that notification of acceptance or rejection is promptly accorded to contributors, and criticism is given if requested. Address contributions to Eyas, English department.

Auto Registration High On Campus; Accident Rate Low

"Parking facilities on campus are plentiful, however students do not use them to their fullest capacity," stated William J. Rohrs, director of safety.

Chief Rohrs said that the stadium lot is rarely filled, but other lots are usually over-crowded.

On March 29, 1954 there were 770 student-registered cars on campus and 388 faculty and employee cars. To date this year there are 925 student-registered cars and over 400 faculty and employee cars.

Student cooperation has been good and there have been no serious accidents this year.

Student Court collected $385 in parking and non-registration fines during the first semester of this school year. At this time last year they had collected $281.

Thomas Curtis To Give Organ Recital Sunday

Thomas Curtis, University organist, will present a faculty recital at 8:15 Sunday evening in the Main Auditorium. He will be assisted by his wife, Louise, soprano, and three faculty string players; Gerald McLaughlin and William Alexander, violinists; and Seymour Benstock, cellist.

Selections on the program include "Chaconne in D minor," by Louis Couperin; Francisco Vercini's "Largo in F sharp minor;" "A Lesson," by William Sley; the "Prelude and Fugue in G major," by J. S. Bach; Jehan Alain's "Litanies;" "Agnus Dei," by Seth Bingham; and Louis Vierne's "Finale from the First Symphony." Groups of organ solos will open and conclude the program.

Mrs. Curtis will sing the solo cantata, "Sicut Moses," by Dietrich Buxtehude. She will be accompanied by organ and strings.

Mystery Plague At Wittenberg; All Extra Activities Suspended

By PATRICIA GUTHMAN

Wittenberg College is in the throes of a near-epidemic. All extracurricular activities have been banned and the newspaper has been suspended until the epidemic is over. The last issue of the newspaper carried three stories all dealing with this problem, but not one of them mentioned what kind of an epidemic they are having. (I think it is the bubonic plague and they are ashamed to admit it).

The Sauter-Finnegan Band is appearing at Wooster College this week. One of the students at the University of Toledo recently spelled Great Britain "Grate Brytn" on an exam.

The campus cops at New York University believe that a recent fire which demolished one third of a professor's desk was started by a student hoping to burn a final. The police became suspicious when they discovered that the fire was started with debris which was piled around the desk.

At a student government meeting at the University of Chicago, there was a discussion about a rule which states that all off-campus activities have to be approved by the student government, and failure to comply with his results in expulsion from the organization. Suddenly, in the midst of the discussion, a group of masked fraternity men burst into the room. They circled around yelling "Chicago's not free," and sprinkled deodorant on all those present.

Students at Oberlin College are going to be able to take dancing lessons this spring. The cost is 25 cents a lesson per couple or $2 for the entire course. They are also having a turnabout dance this month, to which students may invite faculty dates.

If you are always running out of money, you might try raising earthworms as did two coeds at George Washington University. They started with $10 each and purchased 1,000 worms. The worms multiplied into thousands and they sold for a penny apiece to fishermen, farmers, and gardeners.

"Webster says taut means tight. I guess I was taut a lot in school after all."—The Town Crier of the U.S.S. Yorktown.

At Montana State College any instructor may be rated by his students if he wishes. The rating is done by the class under the supervision of another student. These completed ratings are placed in a sealed envelope and returned to the Dean's office. The instructor can get them only after he turns in his final grades at the close of the quarter.

The students also have the right to request their instructor to be rated, if he does not voluntarily ask to be rated.

A big hello to Marvin Katz at Kent State. I thought they had discontinued your column.

Some coeds at the University of Minnesota are earning money for a trip to Florida over spring vacation. They are charging 10 cents for a back rub, 75 cents for kitchen duty, 15 cents to iron a shirt, 10 cents for a shoe shine, and a quarter for a haircut.

At May Hardin-Baylor College (for women only) the students weren't pleased by a masculine attempt to beautify the campus. It seems the men planted zinnias—known as the old-maid flower. The women are filling up the remaining flower beds with forget-me-nots and bachelor buttons.

The women pledges at Capital University are being persecuted this year. One chapter had their pledges go to classes dressed as flappers in heels with hose rolled down just below the skirt, straight skirts, long blouses, and crepe paper sashes. Another chapter refused to let the pledges wear a make-up or set their hair. Still another group made their pledges wear one shoe and one heel, a skirt upside down and wrong side out, tied with a piece of cord, parted down the middle, perfectly straight, and a demerit notebook around their necks.

Three Kappa Sigma pledges at Florida State were given pledge paddles and told to have them signed by President Eisenhower. The next day they were back after having successfully completed their mission.

The trio had driven down to Thomasville, Ga., where the President was staying. After being almost thrown out by the secret service men, they had a chance to explain their problem to Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty. "I'm a fraternity man myself," said Hagerty, gathering up the paddles and taking them in for the President to sign.

Geology Students Plan Extensive Field Trip

Geology or earth science majors and minors planning to go on the spring field trip April 2 must sign up before March 15, said Dr. John R. Coash, assistant professor of geology.

The trip will be taken in the two University station wagons, and private cars. They will camp out while in Pennsylvania, Connecticut, and the Catskill Mountains.

Libe Business Booms, Circulation Increases

The greatest volume of business in the history of the University library is being done this year, stated Pres. Ralph W. McDonald in a report last month to the board of trustees.

According to the records of Dr. Paul F. Leedy, University librarian, the number of books circulated during the calendar year 1954 increased 26 per cent compared to 1953.

The circulation figure of 1953 was 125,346 books. In 1954, the number jumped to 157,996, making a net increase of 32,650 books.

Schembechler Named New Grid Line Coach

Edward (Bo) Schembechler, a former Barberton high school and Miami University gridiron star, will join the Bowling Green State University football staff this week.

Doyt Perry, the new Bowling Green head coach, said that Schembechler had resigned as line coach and head baseball coach at Presbyterian College, Clinton, S.C., and would report immediately.

The new BG assistant was an offensive tackle on the 1949-50 Miami teams under Ohio State's Woody Hayes when the Buckeye coach led the Redskins to the post-season Salad Bowl.

Besides two gridiron awards, Schembechler was a standout southpaw pitcher on Miami baseball teams, losing only two games in his three-year diamond career.

After receiving his degree in education in 1951 at Miami, the 26-year-old coach followed Hayes to Ohio State where he worked on the football staff during 1951 season and 1952 spring drill while taking graduate work. He received his master's degree in August, 1952, just as he was called to military service.

While in service, Schembechler coached both football and baseball at Camp Rucker, Ala., in addition to his duties in the adjutant general's office. Last summer he took up his duties at the small South Carolina school.

Three-Sport Man

Schembechler was a three-sport athlete in Barberton High School where he graduated in 1947. As a tackle he was captain of the 1946 Barberton eleven for his third gridiron award. He also played basketball at the Akron suburb and gained four baseball awards. The former Magic standout took part in the 1947 Ohio high school all-star game at Canton.

While on the Miami campus, Schembechler, was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity and Phi Epsilon Kappa, honorary physical education fraternity.

Schembechler is single. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Schembechler, 159 9th St., N.E., in Barberton.

All-Campus Wrestling Tournament Announced

Entries are due for the all-campus wrestling tournament March 19, according to David Matthews, intramural director. Entries may be made on an individual or team basis, but members of varsity or freshmen wrestling teams are ineligible.

Each contestant must have at least five workouts under instructors, and these workouts will be held starting March 12 through March 20 in the wrestling room of the Men's Gymnasium.

The meet itself will be run off on March 23 and 25. Watch the B-G News for further information as to the weigh-in times, and rules.

Rogers Placed On MAC Second Team

Dick Howard, Western Reserve's 6-6 center, was the only unanimous choice on the Mid-American all-Conference team. Bowling Green's Bill Rogers was polled on the conference second team while Max Chapman and Jim Tucker received honorable mention.

Howard made the Coaches' all-MAC for the third year in succession, the second player to do so in the league's history. Phil Martin of Toledo is the only other three-time choice. The 1955 selections, with scoring indicated in conference play only:

Honorable mention: Jim Tucker and Max Chapman, Bowling Green; Dave Robinson, Marshall; Bill Kennon, Dick Klitch and Don Barnette, Miami; Fred Moore, Ohio; Fred Corbus and Alan Barkeley, Western Michigan, and Darrell Simko, Western Reserve.

Nators At Kent For MAC Meet

The Bowling Green swimming team has a good chance to come out on top this year in the third annual Mid-American Conference Meet March 10, 11, and 12 at Kent State University.

The Bobcats of Ohio U., according to early reports will be the team for the Falcon tankers to beat. The Bobcats are the defending conference champions.

Ohio University has an advantage in diving with John Botouchis, defending conference champion, and with Jim Elliot, last year's runner-up, scholastically ineligible, chances in the diving event seem slim. This could well be the event to decide this year's meet.

Last year eight records were broken and this year's meet promises to be even faster. Coach Sam Cooper believes that approximately three-fourths of the events this year will see new record holders.

Mr. Cooper also stated that Bowling Green has a possibility of winning every freestyle event. This would include the 50, 100, 220, and 440 yd. freestyle events, plus the 1500 meter race and the 400 yd. freestyle relay.

This year's squad has compiled a 10-3 record, with two of these defeats coming at the hands of powerful Michigan State and Kenyon College. The third loss was to Ohio University.

Basketball Meeting

There will be an important meeting at 4 p.m. Monday, March 14 in Room 103, Men's Gym for all men interested in trying out for next year's varsity basketball team.

This includes all members of this year's varsity and freshman squads, as well as any one else who is interested. Plans for spring practice will be discussed.

Russell Paces BG Wrestling Squad

Kenny Russell was established as the outstanding wrestler for the 1954-55 season according to statistics released by Don Cunningham, publicity director. Russell compiled a record of eight wins and two losses including three pins and the heavyweight title in the Mid-American Conference Meet held here last Saturday.

Tony Mancini and Jack Leonard were close behind with identical records of seven wins, two losses and one tie. Mancini gained the edge in pins with three and Leonard collected two. Mancini wrestles in the 157 weight bracket and Leonard in the 147.

Tom Hoskinson also racked up an impressive record in the 123 pound bracket with seven wins and three losses. Hoskinson had one pin to his credit.

The other squad members who were instrumental in BG's very successful season are Kermit Knowles, 3-6-1, Harold Bruck, 3-6-0, Jack Mikush, 2-3-0, Jim Krupa, 2-3-0, John Ladd, 2-1-1, Ronald Short, 1-0-0, and Carl Ford, 2-4-0. Ford and Mikush garnered one pin each and Knowles pinned two of his opponents.

The Falcon wrestling squad ended the season with 44 wins, 32 losses and 4 ties. BG made the season a successful one by finishing second to Ohio University in the MAC Meet with a total of 35 points.

1955 Baseball Roster

A tentative 1955 Bowling Green State University baseball roster has been selected by Coach Warren Steller. Coach Steller stated that the roster is based on past performance and that he will not know who makes the squad until after the outdoor practice sessions begin. Ten men not listed below also are trying for a starting role and Coach Steller emphasized the fact that nothing is definite and everyone will be given a chance.

Dressel, Atkinson Boost Falcon Swimmers To Successful Season

The highly-touted Bowling Green tankmen possess one of their most commendable records of recent seasons. Among their brightspots are Paul Atkinson and Paul Dressel.

Dressel is a 20-year-old senior from River Rouge, Mich. He has been competing in the 200-yard backstroke and is a strong man on the medley relay team. This year he has been victorious in nine of thirteen backstroke races. In the Mid-American Relays he took first in the backstroke relay and finished second in the medley relay.

Active On Campus

A member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, and the Varsity Club, he plans to enter the Marines upon graduation. In high school, under Coach Ray Kreuger of Michigan Normal, he won four letters and was conference champ his senior year.

Dressel weighs 160 pounds and stands 5' 11". He is enrolled in the College of Education with a major in geography. Having placed second in the backstroke for the past two years in league competition, he is a strong favorite to cop top honors in this year's Mid-American championships.

Handyman Atkinson aids the efficiency of the well-balanced Falcon contingent. He has competed in the individual medley and the 220 and 440 freestyle distance races. Against Kenyon, he set a pool record in the individual medley with a time of 1:37.8. He is undefeated in the 220, coming out victorious in three races.

Starred in MAC Relays

In the Mid-American last year, he placed second in the individual medley. He also produced two victories in the Mid-American Relays this season. Atkinson was graduated from Libbey High, Toledo. He is 20 years old, a College of Education junior, tips the scales at 172 pounds and measures 5' 11". He is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, Army ROTC, and the Varsity Club. His coach was Tom Edwards, a Springfield College graduate.

Coach Sam Cooper is justly proud of this season's squad. He believes that because of the confidence, spirit, and ability of his boys, "it will take a good team to beat them." He was referring to the Mid-American championships in which his men are rated a good possibility of upsetting Ohio University.

Basketball Recap Shows Tucker, Rogers, On Top

By DICK BUDD

Final basketball statistics for the 1954-55 season put Jim Tucker and Bill Rogers on top in the scoring department. Tucker led the cagers in the overall season, 22 games, with a 15.4 average. Rogers averaged 17.7 in 14 conference games to cop scoring honors in that department for the cagers.

Rogers, who only played 21 games in the regular season due to a bad leg muscle, followed Tucker for all games with a 14.5 average. Tucker just reversed the situation in conference play by following Rogers in averaging 17.1 points per game.

Six Falcons turned in better averages in MAC competition than they did for all games while the same number played better ball in overall games.

Chapman Leads Rebounds

Max Chapman was far out in front in the rebound department, hauling in 284, an average of 14 per game. Second to Chapman was Jim Reid with 133 followed by Tucker with 111.

Tom Dakich topped his teammates, those playing over 14 games, in shooting percentage hitting 50 of 122 for .410. Dakich was followed by Chapman, .405; Tucker, .368; Al Benning, .362; Rogers, .361 and Lanny Miles, .346. Dakich maintained his lead in the free throw department also, dumping 41 of 59 for .695. Tucker was runner up with a percentage of .674.

The only perfect mark of the season was turned in by Don Lee. Lee dunked four for four from the charity line to take the lone 1.000 percent.

Tucker Dunks 339

Tucker ended up the season with a total of 339 points followed by Rogers with 305, Chapman with 226, Miles with 158, Dakich tallied 141 while Jim Reid chimed in with 138.

Rogers tops the individual game scoring with 41 against Western Reserve, one point off the school record, and 33 against Marshall. Tucker scored 29 against Western Michigan and the same number against Reserve. He scored 27 more against OU and 26 in the Toledo Sports Arena. Dakich was next high with 25 markers against the OU Bobcats.

Dayton Leading Foe

The most pointers scored against the Falcons was 109 at Dayton. The most points scored by the Falcons was 89 in the first Marshall game. The season saw one overtime in 22 games and that was the season finale at Kent.

Bowling Green scored 1,510 points while their opponents tallied 1,751. BG hit on .351 percent of their shots while opponents hit .403. The Falcons' foul shooting percent was .632, their opponents, .683. Bowling Green averaged 68.6 points per game and their foes 79.6.

VOLLEYBALL TOURNEY ANNOUNCED

Women's intramural volleyball tournament starts Monday. Approximately 25 teams have been entered, according to Miss Dorothy Luedtke, intramural director.

80 Attend Spring Football Meeting

Approximately 80 men reported to Doyt Perry, Bowling Green's new head football coach, Tuesday afternoon to hear and meet him personally.

Perry explained to the gridders that spring practice will begin in about two weeks.

One of the biggest items mentioned by Perry was grades. He stressed grades before anything. "Why waste time practicing and then be declared ineligible because of low grades?" Perry said.

Perry also said that it is up to the men on whether or not they want a winning team. He stressed that football is a contact game and that many times a person gets discouraged and down-hearted. "You must have the heart and desire to play and win," was his expression.

In ending his first meeting he had each man fill out a form and told them that he would let them know as soon as possible the date when actual practice would begin.

Williams Hall Winners In Women's Basketball

The women's intramural basketball championship went to Williams Hall as a result of their victory over Chi Omega Sorority. There were 23 teams entered in the two leagues. Nancy Maintz was captain of the Williams Hall team and Barb Flint headed the Chi Omegas.

The two teams will travel to Miami University this weekend to compete in a basketball tournament.

Sorosis Group Hears About Art Originals

John T. Carey, assistant professor of art, was an after-dinner speaker last Monday night at the Charles Restaurant banquet of Sorosis, Bowling Green women's study group. He spoke on "Art for the Home" for the group which is making a yearly study of art.

Emphasizing the possibilities that the average home could afford to purchase original, and that chances for obtaining originals were not as rare as most people thought they were. Mr. Carey stated that art agencies existed which would help a purchaser to recognize art of quality. Persons interested in buying art for their home could have a fairly good selection and be certain they were getting good work by following local art shows such as the Dutch exhibit at the Toledo Art Museum, and by contacting art agencies such as the American Society of Artists.

"More people should buy what they like and want rather than pay an interior decorator to furnish their homes with something they would not understand or appreciate." Development of taste on a practical basis is important in the home.

In the question-answer period that followed Mr. Carey's half-hour speech, it was pointed out to the group that prints fitted into the contemporary home very well because they were small and adaptable to the surroundings.

Mr. Carey, after the session was over, admitted that he was acting somewhat as a salesman for the field of graphic arts. He pointed out that in a 1950 survey it was found that only 68 artists lived by their own works. If interest could be stimulated in the people, more good artists could enjoy a means of living other than by finding supplementary jobs in the field of art.

Mr. Carey showed the group original works of art, which he owns, and reproductions from the art department. Sorosis is a new organization that studies in a particular field each year. It is a combined social and study group that has made art its study for this year's project.

UCF Holds Elections At Sunday Program

Election of officers for next fall will be held by United Christian Fellowship, March 13 and 14, according to Paul Bock, director of UCF.

All members present at the Sunday evening program will vote at that time. Ballots will be sent to absentees on Monday, and must be returned by Wednesday, March 16.

Phi Sigma Mu Holds Annual Music Dinner

A live calliope, midget lions, and clowns highlighted the annual Music Major's Banquet which was Tuesday in the east side of the Commons. The banquet was sponsored by Phi Sigma Mu, national recognition society for women music majors.

Following the meal, several acts featuring members of the music department faculty and students were presented. Highlighting the entertainment was a hillbilly band consisting of Prof. Seymour Benstock, Prof. Leon Fauley, and Prof. William Elliott.

Pipes Play Part For Practical-Minded Gals

"Heap big smoke, but no fire," describes University of Miami coeds with the latest campus fad—pipes.

The new ladies' accessories come in a variety of shapes and sizes, ranging from the carved or painted "day" pipe to the jeweled "evening" pipe, writes Evelyn Savage in the Miami Hurricane.

A senior coed says although pipe tobacco usually smells masculine, her Special Ladies' Blend has a distinct feminine odor. "Pipes taste better perfumed," she says. Another claims that pipe puffing "atomizes her room."

A 15-cent can of tobacco goes further than a 20-cent package of cigarettes, is the general opinion. One senior said her tobacco lasted her all through college. She doesn't smoke much, though.

Local Oil Boom Brings Wealth To Bowling Green; Homes Built

Texans were not the only ones to profit from the "oil boom." When oil was gushing in what was then known as the Black Swamp County, Bowling Green residents practically became rich overnight. This happened way back in the gay "Gay '90s," and evidences of it are still present.

Wealth was displayed by the building of expensive homes, as the Smiths endeavored to keep up with the Joneses. The Sigma Alpha Epsilon house on South Main St., is one example of these large homes which is now serving as a fraternity house. The Court House was also built at this time and Bowling Green was on its way.

Strange as it may seem, this oil was not welcomed at first, because it obstructed the flow of gas through the lines. The gas boom had preceded the oil boom, and is still considered by the older residents who remember it as a memorable time in Bowling Green history.

Oil was then considered as a secondary product of the gas, which was found in such abundance many thought the supply would not be exhausted in a thousand years. However oil began appearing in such large quantities that it soon took over the place of gas and enabled the companies

Business Staff Works Behind-The-Scenes With Little Mention

Many members of the B-G News staff, who work just as ardently for each issue as those persons listed in the masthead, go through the school year with little mention. Their only compensation comes at the end of the year when their pictures are printed in The Key.

These "unsung heroes" are members of the business staff, working as advertising salesmen and in circulation. These persons were appointed at the beginning of the year by Nancy Campbell, business manager, and the advertising manager, Chester Arnold.

Of the advertising salesmen, Sheldon Kadish has solicited advertising for three years for the News. Ronnie Engleke is now working for the second year, and Pat Smith, Pat Garver, and Leon DeBth have been getting the ads for the newspaper for this year. Stan Richmond is assistant advertising manager.

On the circulation staff appointed by John Tite, circulation manager, is Charlotte Sennett, assistant circulation manager and Sally Gallup. Roy Erickson was a member of the staff first semester.

Charles Leidy is taking care of the accountant's books this year. He was advertising manager in 1953-54 and this is the third year he has been a member of the newspaper business staff. Joyce Blanc is in the billing department for the second year.

Art Groups' Members To Use Equipped Office

Members of Delta Phi Delta, national recognition society in art, and the Art Guild have a new office in the Fine Arts Bldg. Originally a darkroom and storage room, the office is equipped with a desk, typewriter, and shelves. In the future it will have files.

The groups will use it primarily for correspondence, picture schedules, activity files, and group selling records. The room was obtained through the efforts of Otto G. Oevirk, adviser, and Willard F. Wankelman, chairman of the art department, and opened the week of Feb. 28.

Leland Lev and Sheldon Sadugor, members of Beta Eta Chapter of Zeta Beta Tau went to the ZBT Regional Convention at the University of Illinois last weekend. Convention members discussed problems and exchanged ideas about fraternity.

The delegates had meetings Saturday afternoon followed by a dinner and a dance.

Chapters from Arkansas, Colorado, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Michigan, Missouri, Kentucky, and Illinois were also present.

FLANAGAN RECEPTION

Delta Tau Delta fraternity will hold a closed reception for Ralph Flanagan and some members of his band preceding the Military Ball Friday, March 12. Other guests will include military personnel from the Army and the Air Force.

SCIENCE MADE SIMPLE: NO. 2

Though this column is intended solely as a vehicle for well-tempered drollery, the makers of Philip Morris have agreed to let me use this space from time to time for a short lesson in science. They are the most decent and obliging of men, the makers of Philip Morris, as one would guess from sampling their product. Only from bounteous hearts could come such a pleasurable cigarette—so felicitously blended, so gratifying to the taste, so soothing to the psyche. And, as though bringing you the most agreeable cigarette on the market were not enough, the makers of Philip Morris have enclosed their wares in the Snap-Open Pack, an ingeniously contrived wrapping that yields up its treasure without loss of time or cuticle. And, finally, this paragon of cigarettes, wrapped in the paragon of packages, can be had in king-size or regular, as your taste dictates. Who can resist such a winning combination? Not I.

A few weeks ago in this column we had a brief lesson in chemistry. Today we take up another attractive science—medicine.

Medicine was invented in 1066 by a Greek named Hippocrates. He soon attracted around him a group of devoted disciples whom he called "doctors." The reason he called them "doctors" was that they sat around a dock all day. Some fished, some just dozed in the noonday sun. In truth, there was little else for them to do, because disease was not invented until 1492.

After that doctors became very busy, but it must be reported, their knowledge of medicine was lamentably meagre. They knew only one treatment—a change of climate. For example, a French doctor would send all his patients to Switzerland; a Swiss doctor, on the other hand, would send all his patients to France. By 1789 the entire population of France was living in Switzerland, and vice versa. This later became known as the Black Tom Explosion.

Not until 1924 did medicine, as we know it, come into being. In that year in the little Bavarian village of Pago-Pago an elderly physician named Winko Sigafos discovered the hot water bottle. He was, of course, burned as a witch, but his son Lydia, disguised as a linotype, smuggled the hot water bottle out of the country. He called on Florence Nightingale in London but was told by her housekeeper, with some asperity, that Miss Nightingale had died in 1910. Lydia muttered something and, disguised as a feather boa, made his way to America, where he invented the blood stream.

Medicine, as it is taught at your very own college, can be divided roughly into two classifications. There is internal medicine, which is the treatment of internes, and external medicine, which is the treatment of externes.

Diseases also fall into two broad categories—chronic and acute. Chronic disease, is of course, inflammation of the chron, which can be mighty painful, believe you me! Last summer my cousin Haskell was stricken with a chron attack while out picking up tinfoil, and it was months before the wretched boy could straighten up. In fact, even after he was cured, Haskell continued to walk around bent over double. This went on for some weeks before Dr. Caligari, the lovable old country practitioner who treats Haskell, discovered that Haskell had his pants buttoned to his vest.

Two years ago Haskell had Addison's disease. (Addison, curiously enough, had Haskell's.) Poor Haskell catches everything that comes along. Lovable old Dr. Caligari once said to him, "Son, I guess you are what they call a natural born catcher."

"The joke is on you, Doc," replied Haskell. "I am a third baseman." He thereupon fell into such a fit of giggling that the doctor had to put him under sedation, where he is to this day.

But I digress. We were discussing medicine. I have now told you all I can; the rest is up to you. Go over to your medical school and poke around. Bring popcorn and watch an operation. Fiddle with the X-ray machines. Contribute to the bone bank ... And, remember, medicine can be fun!

Kohl Hall Open House To Show Redecoration

Christine N. Skolar, chairman of the social committee, is in charge of the Kohl Hall open house to be held Sunday, March 13, 2 to 4:30 p.m. Dede Houser is assisting Miss Skolar.

All parts of the dormitory will be open to anyone interested in seeing how a coed lives. Students, faculty, and parents will have the opportunity to see the interior of the dormitory since its redecoration last summer.

Refreshments will be served in the lower lounge during the open house.

Fraternity Gives Hints On Stains

Do you know how to remove a rust stain or a lipstick stain from your clothes?

Phi Upsilon Omicron, national home economics fraternity for women, has a display on stain removals in its show case located on the first floor of the Practical Arts Bldg.

The show case project was started in 1950 by the local home economics honorary.

There is a display in the case throughout the year. A committee head by Edna Grine changes and makes up displays approximately every two months.

CHEM CLUB ACTIVITIES

The Chemical Journal Club recently accepted 14 new members. The initiates are William Bayer, Donald Groves, Richard Heckman, Thomas Kinstle, Richard Neiswander, Linda Nugent, Richard Snow, Robert Stein, Charles Thorne, James Howell, Elenor Yatsko, Charles Holloway, Gilbert Pierce, and Robert Rogers.

The Chemical Journal Club presented two student speakers at the March 2 meeting in 140 Chemistry Bldg. Edward Kish spoke on "The First Man-Made Element." His talk centered around the discovery and difficulties involved in the manufacturing of Technetium.

Richard Cicula spoke on a technical subject titled "The Multiplicity of Particles." His talk dealt specifically with the construction of particles and the 21 known constituent parts of the atom. A brief business meeting preceded the two speeches.
